

Math Teacher

NativityMiguel School of Scranton – Scranton, PA 18509

About us

NativityMiguel School of Scranton (NMS) is a private, Catholic, co-educational, tuition-free/all-scholarship middle school (5-8) proudly serving students and families of greater economic need.

NMS is seeking a qualified and dedicated middle school math teacher to join our school team.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching math to students in grades 6-8, creating a positive and nurturing classroom environment, and supporting student learning and growth in mathematics.

Additional Responsibilities:

- Develop and implement lesson plans and activities that align with Pennsylvania Math standards and the mission and values of the NativityMiguel Scranton
- Assess student understanding and progress in math through a variety of assessments
- Provide timely and constructive feedback to students and parents about student progress and areas for improvement
- Use a variety of instructional strategies and resources, including technology, hands-on activities, and group work, to engage and support student learning
- Establish and maintain a positive and supportive classroom culture that promotes learning, respect, and responsibility, and fosters a sense of belonging and community among students
- Collaborate with other teachers and staff to develop and implement effective teaching strategies, assessments, and interventions, and support student academic and social-emotional growth
- Participate in the NativityMiguel Scranton's extended day and extended year programming and support student development outside of the regular school day and academic year
- Other duties as assigned by the school administration

Requirements:

Bachelor's degree in math education or a related field

- PA Teaching certification or licensure in math education
- Strong knowledge of middle school math curriculum and instructional strategies, as well as a commitment to the mission and values of the NativityMiguel Schools
- All required clearances and background checks

This is a full-time position with salary and benefits. If you are passionate about math education and enjoy working with middle school students, we encourage you to apply!
